Coastal Center for Developmental Services Expands Its Board of Directors

Savannah, GA – April 27, 2010 – Coastal Center for Developmental Services, Inc. (CCDS), a leading local service provider for adults with disabilities, has announced the appointment of Dr. Ken Boyd, Lee Grimes, and Dan Massey to its Board of Directors.

“The expansion of the CCDS Board of Directors ensures our agency will continue to benefit from a wealth of expertise and experience. Our board determined these three were the best candidates because of their leadership experience in well-known businesses, their reputation as change agents, and their demonstrated management skills,” said Kathy Thomson, Executive Director of CCDS.

Ken Boyd, Ed.D. is the Vice President of Economic Development for Savannah Technical College. Boyd initially became involved with our organization when he agreed to customize a business management class for the Quantum business managers. Boyd actively served on the Business Advisory Council until he joined the Quantum Board of Directors in July 2006. While serving on the Quantum Board, he held many offices to include President, Vice President, and Treasurer. His connections with the business community have opened doors to many of the larger manufacturers to include JCB, IKEA, and Oneida.

Lee I. Grimes is the Director of Research and Established Business at the Savannah Economic Development Authority (SEDA). Working primarily with manufacturers, warehousing companies and corporate headquarters, Grimes’ role is to offer them services, help understanding the community and assistance in expansion and with problems. She is also an active participant in the Business Retention Action Team (BRAT) which is designed to provide a framework of services, operational solutions, and resource information to facilitate business and job growth.

Daniel W. Massey is the Clerk of Superior Court for Chatham County, an office he has held since 2004. As the City Manager of Pooler from 1985 to 1992, he extended and improved the town’s infrastructure to promote development and start programs for youth and elderly residents. In his current role, Massey has made significant improvements in technology availability and data sharing in the court system, even moving to a paperless environment for one division. Massey is active in nine professional committees related to the court system and currently chairs four of them.
